HAPPY THANKSGIVING!
Anyone in the audience as confused as we are? Here we were... all set to bat out a masterpiece for Thanksgiving... walked downtown and found Christmas staring us in the face! Mighty pretty red and silver decorations swinging and swaying in the glittering sun... but mighty confusing to us old Down-Easters! Bad enough not having snow for New Year... but when they start putting Christmas ahead of Thanksgiving... we've had it! Thanksgiving is an important and significant holiday all on its own... and we won't have it rushed.

Might be a good idea to tuck away that Christmas list for a little while and get up a Thanksgiving list. Ours is fairly short... First, a Thanks for peace in the world (may it continue!); a Thanks for the health of the children, all rumbly, grumbly three of them; a special Thanks for good friends who appreciate one's virtues and understand one's faults; a Thanks for the bright, smog-less weather after the blessed rain; for UCLA's going into the Rose Bowl; and a big Thanks for having things to wish and strive and hope for...

That's why we feel sorry for millionaires... nothing to look forward to! Like the story they tell of J. P. Morgan, friend of his once said, "I'm thinking of buying a yacht, Mr. Morgan. Tell me, what is the annual upkeep?" "Anyone," promptly answered Morgan, "who even has to ask about the annual upkeep of a yacht can't afford one." Pretty sad, huh?

Good to remember, too, that "words are but empty thanks," as someone said a long time ago. So... no matter who's cooking the dinner next Thursday... Mom, Wife or Good Friend... a little gift is such a nice way to say "thank you." Remember that other wise old saying, "My dame fed her hens with mere thanks, and they laid no eggs." And here's a tip on that "little gift" idea... come see the fabulous new hankies (linen) and brilliant print scarves (silk) we've got in the Store. You'll like 'em, and so will the receiver!

WOMAN SIDE
Glamour has really come home! And that's where you'll want to stay once you've put on one of our new housecoats (that's the wrong word... they should be called Glamour Robes). Especially tempting, and oh-so-holiday looking; one we call the Little Princess... fitted to hug the waist yet stay utterly comfortable because of a knitted waistband... mandarin collar, gold buttons all the way down, three-quarter length full, graceful skirt... in two colors, lemon chiffon pie yellow, and dazzling white. It's quilted washable nylon that feels and looks like pure silk. Same handsome style comes in soft pink and lovely blue, but this time in jersey with V-neck and flat collar.

If you're the kind of gal who relaxes better in Capri pants we've got a new line by Sport Time of California... looks as if they just came off the boat from the Isle of Capri. Made of fine corduroy (nothing wears better), back zippered for perfect fit... and some have their own perfect, perfect Italian style over-shirt in striped corduroy... white, black, turquoise and fire engine red!

MAN SIDE
Cold weather catch you without a hat? Southern California must be getting more formal... but Ray tells me hats (for you fellows, that is) are being worn more and more. Didn't even know we had such a terrific selection... but we have, and pay for it later! And just to remind us that this is still the West where men are men, and women are glad of it, we carry Stetsons too!

OUR SIDE
All that talk about Thanksgiving doesn't mean we've really forgotten about Christmas... so just a reminder: anything you see now (while stock is fresh and selections bigger than ever)... Lay It Away now and pay for it later! And just a word of pleading to the City Fathers... Hey, Councilmen, and Mr. Mayor, too... how about putting a bright new coat of white paint on the lines for parker cars on Sartori and other downtown streets? Can't hardly see them things no more! Otherwise we think Torrance is a great place to shop, 'cause it's right here at home and fun... especially at 1311 Sartori... Sam Levy Dept. Store. Naturally!

Leonard Pennario, Pianist, Will Open Concert Series

FAMED MUSICIAN TO PLAY NOVEMBER 21

Success came early to the Buffalo-born Leonard Pennario, who will play here on Monday night, November 21, at the civic auditorium. At twelve he was the soloist in the Grieg Piano Concerto, which he had learned in six days, with the Dallas Symphony Orchestra.

His first major triumph was as soloist with the Los Angeles Philharmonic, with which he has since starred as soloist twenty-four times.

His debut with the New York Philharmonic-Symphony in 1943, which through the years has been followed by other guest appearances, was hailed as "brilliant" by the New York Herald Tribune's eminent critic, Virgil Thomson. Shortly after that, his career was interrupted by the war.

Three years and three bronzed stars later, Pennario resumed his career with a coast-to-coast recital tour.

He has been soloist with conductors: Mitropoulos, Monteux, Rodzinski, Klemperer, Thor Johnson, Seivitsky, Wallenstein, and Steinberg; and he has given a number of recitals in New York, six of them at Carnegie Hall.

Pennario is the first artist to appear on a series of joint concerts with the Torrance Area Youth Concert Band, sponsored by the Youth Band-Artists Concerts association.

Council Petitions Governor For Local Superior Court

A resolution requesting emergency action at the special session of the California Superior Court for establishing a superior court in Torrance was passed unanimously at an adjourned meeting of the Torrance city council last Thursday.

The resolution, addressed to Governor Goodwin Knight, carries alternative provisions so that the legislature could either create a superior court in the city of Torrance or else amend the present law to make Torrance eligible for such a court.

Under the present law, a city is eligible for a superior court if its city hall is more than eight miles from the city hall of the nearest city having a superior court.

In Torrance's case, this city is Compton. The proposed amendment to the present law states that the eight miles be "calculated by using the most practicable highway route from city hall to city hall."

That would make the distance between Torrance and Compton about 10 miles. Otherwise, the distance is slightly less than eight miles as the crow flies, it was pointed out.
